re: high level nuclear waste storage facility on the Skull Valley Reservation, Utah

Dear Chief Meyer:

Given the track record of commercial nuclear waste solutions, myself and many others are very concerned for our safety and well being here in Salt Lake County, Utah. Private fuel storage, LLC has proposed a high level nuclear storage facility just 45 miles west of my house on the Skull Valley Reservation. We have a right to live without fear of man made contaminants in our natural environment.

This proposed site is a bad choice as it has a highly populated area down wind. I do not know the solution for dealing with this storage, but I hope this problem will urge you to consider the reduction of this type of waste in the future. Let's create a better industrial vision for the United States and the world.

Sincerely,

Garrett D. Gilmore
