U.S. NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

AFFIRMATIVE EMPLOYMENT PLAN

FISCAL YEARS 2001 THROUGH 2005

FOREWORD

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), an independent agency of the Federal Government, was created by the Energy Reorganization Act of 1974. The Agency is headed by five Commissioners, who are appointed by the President and confirmed by the U.S. Senate. The President designates the Chairman of the Commission from among these Commissioners. The mission of the NRC is to ensure that civilian uses of nuclear materials in the United States are carried out with adequate protection of public health and safety, the environment, and national security. It is the policy of the NRC to facilitate equal employment opportunities for all employees and applicants for employment and foster a work environment that maximizes employee potential and utilization.

This Plan supports a set of proactive guiding principles, and challenging goals and objectives for achieving and maintaining equal employment opportunity and a diverse workforce. In developing this Plan, staff from the Office of Small Business and Civil Rights (SBCR) and the Office of Human Resources (HR) considered information from Operating Plans submitted by Office Directors and Regional Administrators, information provided by the EEO Advisory Committees, and the Joint Labor Management Equal Employment Opportunity Committee (JLMEEOC). SBCR also considered NRC's organizational values and an assessment of NRC's workforce, and past EEO goals and accomplishments.

This Plan provides a strategic framework for identifying and pursuing Equal Employment Opportunity goals throughout the NRC and supports the Agency's Managing Diversity initiative. The implementation of the Affirmative Employment Plan meets the guidelines set forth by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, which requires agencies to develop and implement an Affirmative Employment Plan and to report annually on the progress achieved in meeting goals.

UNITED STATES NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

ANNOUNCEMENT NO: 16

DATE: March 20, 2000

TO: ALL NRC Employees

SUBJECT: EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY AND DIVERSITY POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) to establish and maintain an organizational environment that fosters equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment and that values each member of the NRC community on the basis of ability and character. Workforce diversity serves to enhance NRC's ability to achieve its mission. As a result, discrimination based on sexual orientation, race, color, gender, national origin, religion, age, or mental or physical disability is prohibited.

The Commission actively encourages diversity as an aspect of sound business practice and has incorporated its approach in EEO and affirmative employment goals and strategies. These goals and strategies, and the roles and responsibilities of managers, supervisors, and employees for incorporating them in the workplace, are outlined in the NRC's Affirmative Employment Plan (Plan) for FY 1999 - FY 2003.

To achieve the equal employment and diversity objectives outlined in the Plan, the NRC has implemented affirmative-employment and managing-diversity initiatives that promote the full inclusion, utilization, and upward mobility of all NRC employees. The most recent agency initiatives include the establishment of a non-adversarial alternative dispute resolution process to assist employees and managers in reaching mutually acceptable resolutions to claims of employment discrimination. All of our initiatives in this area, however, require the active support of all managers and employees if they are to succeed.

The Commission is fully committed to creating a work environment free of discrimination and harassment of any kind. With your support, we will establish and maintain a work force that is diverse and a work environment in which relationships are built upon trust, respect, teamwork, and open communication.

INTRODUCTION

I am pleased to present the Agency's updated Multi-Year Affirmative Employment Plan for fiscal years 2001 through 2005.

This Plan provides the guiding principles, goals, objectives and actions to assist management officials and employees in achieving an "EEO Standard of Excellence" in the workplace.

To meet this challenge, the staff of the Office of Small Business and Civil Rights will continue to:

1. Assist managers in identifying challenging and realistic EEO goals and objectives.
2. Work with managers, supervisors and employees to achieve these goals and objectives.
3. Assist employees in taking full advantage of career development and career enhancement opportunities.
4. Serve in the role of an ombudsman by addressing employee concerns and attempting to resolve them informally and expeditiously.
5. Maintain an effective discrimination complaint process that addresses the concerns of individuals who seek redress through the process.

To date, SBCR has conducted Managing Diversity sessions for all employees and managers; and has facilitated follow-up actions with some offices to develop office-specific goals related to managing a diverse workforce. Your continued involvement and strong commitment to the goals and objectives set forth in this Plan are critical to achieving and maintaining a work environment that values diversity and promotes equal opportunity for NRC employees, as well as applicants for employment. I look forward to continuing our efforts as we work together to achieve this reality.

A. Glossary of Terms

The definitions included here reflect NRC management's interpretation of these terms as they apply to the Agency's Equal Employment Opportunity Program and Diversity Management process.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) - The right of all employees to work and advance on the basis of merit, ability, and potential without respect to non-merit factors such as race, gender, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or retaliation for having engaged in activities protected by EEO laws.

Diversity - Includes all differences that define each employee as a unique individual. Differences such as culture, ethnicity, race, gender, nationality, age, religion, disability, sexual orientation, education, experiences, opinions, and beliefs are just some of the distinctions that each employee brings to the workplace.

Discrimination - An act or failure to act which excludes or has the effect of excluding a person or class of persons from participation in, denying a person or class of persons benefits of, or subjecting a person or class of persons to unequal treatment in any activity or aspect of employment because of race, gender, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or retaliation for having engaged in activities protected by EEO laws.

EEO Advisory Committees - Groups composed of NRC employees whose charter is to provide recommendations to the Director of the Office of Small Business and Civil Rights to ensure that discrimination is not a factor in the merit process and assist in achieving other EEO objectives. The Committees include: The Hispanic Employment Advisory Committee (HEPAC), Advisory Committee for African Americans (ACAA), Federal Women's Program Advisory Committee (FWPAC), Asian Pacific American Advisory Committee (APAAC), Committee on Age Discrimination (CAD), and Affirmative Action Advisory Committee (AAAC). Additionally, the Joint Labor Management/Equal Employment Advisory Committee (JLMEEOC), which was established as a result of an agreement between the Agency and the National Treasury Employees Union (NTEU), serves as an EEO Advisory Committee.

Major Occupations - Agency occupations containing 100 or more positions. See Appendix B for listing of occupational categories.

Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education (ORISE) Data - Demographic data provided to estimate the pool of potential applicants who are available for employment within the eight NRC major occupations (computer science, lawyer, health physics, civil engineer, electrical engineer, materials engineer, mechanical engineer, nuclear engineer).

Targeted Disabilities - Disabilities targeted for emphasis in affirmative employment planning as defined by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC). They include: deafness, blindness, missing extremities, complete or partial paralysis, convulsive disorders, mental retardation, mental illness, and distortion of limbs and/or spine.

Professional, Administrative, Technical, Clerical, Other, Blue Collar (PATCOB)

Categories - Categories used by the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission (EEOC) to group Federal jobs throughout the Federal service as follows:

Professional: Occupations that require knowledge in a field of science or learning characteristically acquired through education or training equivalent to a college degree in the particular field.

Administrative: Occupations that involve the exercise of analytical ability, judgement, discretion, and personal responsibility and application of a substantial body of knowledge or principles, concepts, and practices applicable to one or more fields of administration or management.

Technical: Occupations that involve work, typically associated with and supportive of a professional or administrative field, which is non-routine in nature and which involves extensive practical knowledge, gained through on-the-job experience and/or specific training less than that represented by college graduation. (The EEOC uses "Technical" to describe technician and paraprofessional support positions. The NRC uses "Technical" to refer to engineer and scientists who are included by EEOC in the "Professional" category.)

Clerical: Occupations that involve structured work in support of office, business, or fiscal operations performed in accordance with established policies, procedures, or techniques and requiring training, experience, or working knowledge related to the tasks to be performed.
