SSD Case number 01-20

SSD Certificates NR-0655-D-101-S, dated December 21, 1990 (inactivation of) and NR-0655-D-801-S, dated September 14, 2001

United Technology Research Center (UTRC) LTG1, Layer Thickness Gauge

Why no checklist was used for certificate NR-0655-D-801-S

No checklist was used because this was an inactivation request. No technical review was performed on this amendment request because UTRC has removed all devices from service and does not intend to use this device anymore. The items in NUREG-1556, Volume 3, section 13.4 were verified as follows:

- number of products sold (made) = 11; number of products still in use = 0
- no additional services will be provided since there are no products remaining
- UTRC has stated that these devices will no longer be used
- UTRC has stated that there have been no changes to the devices since initial registration

All references were checked, and the three which are no longer in the NRC file center were obtained from UTRC and entered into ADAMS.
