Sorry, all... I was out on Friday. If you still want to meet this week, let's pick a good day and time.

I was going to suggest Mindy's office, but since neither she nor Bill have responded, maybe we should postpone this until next week.

I think this is a good idea to discuss the guideline Mindy has generated. It would be good to include her on this discussion as well. How does this afternoon around 2:30pm look for everyone?

I'm finally getting to a point of developing a plan for going through ADAMS records and trying to remove material that meets a threshold. The biggest question remains what the threshold is or what assumptions we should make in making a judgement call objectionable material. Do you have some time today to talk with Dave Matthews and I on this issue?
