Dear Mr. President,

RE: Indian Point Nuclear Power Plan

I had the honor of helping New York citizens recover from the September 11th terrorist attacks. I was a disaster relief caseworker, and I volunteered for several months at Ground Zero.

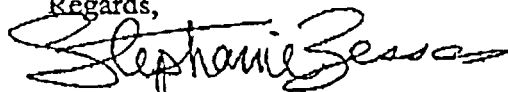

Although many people talked about leaving New York after 9/11, I felt more dedicated to the city than ever. I am certain you are dedicated to rebuilding New York, as well as doing the best possible job to keep it safe in our post 9/11 world. It is therefore quite perplexing that Indian Point Nuclear Power Plant is still open, and extremely vulnerable to terrorist attacks.

Please do all you can to immediately and permanently close the plant.

9/11 still seems shocking and unbelievable, even though I worked extensively in its aftermath. If Indian Point is attacked by terrorists, none of us will have the opportunity for such solemn reflection.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Regards,

Stephanie Zessos
