Dear Sir or Madam:

I heard there is a decision to let low-level radioactive waste be used in building materials. I urge you not to allow this to happen.

We shouldn't have to wonder if common items we use everyday are emitting radioactivity. I don't care how benign someone wants to say it is; it is not.

I realize we are hit with radiation naturally from our environment. That we cannot help. But we do not need to add radiation when we can prevent it.

Please don't do this.

Sincerely,

Maria Coole
