Nuclear Regulatory Commission -

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission must strictly prohibit the deregulation of any solid materials containing or contaminated with man-made radiation, and require that such materials be disposed of only in secure, licensed facilities that are designed to isolate such radioactive waste from humans and the environment.

Look at what has happened in the Middle East since the Gulf War: thousands of babies born with defects, a national tragedy.

Remember what happened years ago when scrap metal (slightly radioactive) went to a scrap metal worker in Mexico. It was made into bistro tables + sold to a parlor in Texas where many people were sickened. We must dispose of our radioactive waste away from people!
