Subject: APPROACH OF TROPICAL STORM CLAUDETTE

Reportable Event Number: N/A

Discussion:

NRC Region IV continues to monitor the track and projected movement of Tropical Storm Claudette. Currently, it appears that the storm may strengthen to hurricane strength prior to landfall. Landfall is predicted at Port O'Conner, Texas, about 35 miles south of the South Texas Project, at 6 to 8 p.m. (CDT) on Tuesday, July 15.

Regional Action:

Region IV has dispatched two inspectors to provide site coverage during the approach and passage of the storm. Region IV will continue to monitor the storm and maintain readiness to respond as necessary.
