Subject: new rules for radioactive wastes?

I read a report that you are formulating new rules for dumping waste into landfills, using waste products in building materials for homes, businesses etc.

WHAT ARE YOU THINKING!?! you were designed and created to protect the public from this crap, not knowingly expose us to it.

If you didn't know how to rid the earth of nuclear waste products, you shouldn't have created them in the first place.

If you didn't know how to contain and store nuclear waste products safely, then you shouldn't have created them in the first place.

People have been saying this for decades, but did anyone listen? Obviously not.

DO NOT, I repeat, DO NOT attempt to further spoil our world by intentionally using us as repositories for nuclear waste products that would further threaten our health and lives.
