Ann: Please include approval from the respective Division Directors. Once that is accomplished we can go with the process.

Thanks

Are these procedures for releasing sensitive documents OK with you? The put you in the middle until Gil Millman comes back. Would you like to change them?

Ann

Harold —

Yesterday, we worked out a procedure with Mindy Landau using her attached email.

A senior technical person in RES will review the document against both the Commission's draft criteria and the criteria in Travers' December 5 memo to the Commission. The senior technical person will notify Gil Millman (Mabel Lee in his absence) that the document has been reviewed against the Commission's draft criteria and the criteria in Travers' memo and that the document has been found to be benign and nonsensitive. Emails are fine for these notifications.

Gil Millman (or Mabel Lee) will forward the notification that the document is benign and nonsensitive to Mindy Landau, who will then release the document for public availability.
