Susan:

I am responding for Josie.

Upon confirmation that the site is working correctly, STP will send a brief announcement out over the STP list server and put a What's New announcement on the STP website stating that a password is no longer needed to access the SS&D sheet information.

This morning we confirmed the go ahead with Don Cool and asked our contractor to remove the password protection requirement. When the contractor has completed , we will test and provide confirmation to you

John As we discussed earlier today, based on several considerations, at this point it is appropriate to release the SS&D registry from password protection of the information.

Please work with Jim Myers in OSTP to have ORNL remove the password protection. We then need to let the Agreement States and other know through an announcement as well as on the Website for NMSS.

I'm sending this email to be clear that everyone in NMSS wants the password protection to be removed.

Thanks, susan
