Aubrey -

First of all, your true password is: [REDACTED] (nobody ever said we could type all that well here in STP). But when I try to use this to get on to the site, for some reason it still will not let me on. I'm going to give our contractors a call this morning and hopefully I'll figure out why things are not working for you. I'll give you a call or send you an e-mail once I figure out what's going on.

This combination of password, username and domain does not work for me. Must be some mighty secrets on this site!

NICE TRY
