Joseph Oldakowski holds an M.S. degree in Environmental Science from Rutgers University. This degree is from the program that formerly granted degrees in Radiation Science under the identical program requirements. This is equivalent to a Health Physics major.

Mr. Oldakowski holds certification in Diagnostic Radiological Physics from the American Board of Radiology (ABR) and is preparing to apply for certification in Therapeutic Radiological Physics. In their evaluation of Mr. Oldakowski's application for certification in diagnostic physics, ABR determined that this degree met their requirement for a masters level degree in physical science.

In consultation with Branch Chief Pam Henderson, I have determined that Mr. Oldakowski qualifies as AMP for HDR based on a masters degree in a field equivalent to health physics, the detailed description of one year training and one year supervised clinical experience submitted by his preceptor, and the large number (240) of supervised HDR cases.
