Randy,

John mentioned you called Friday looking for feedback on the USA Alliance evaluations at Susquehanna.

Most of the USA Alliance audits have been focused in specific areas such as 50.59 reviews, training, etc. The most extensive review was USA's audit of the QA organization. USA provided some detailed feedback for problems in the QA area that are similar to our view of PPL's QA organization. As usual, PPL disagreed with 2 of the 3 significant issues.

From what we've seen USA could do a reasonable review, not as extensive as an INPO evaluation, but more critical than an internal evaluation. Of course, the key will be what does Salem-Hope Creek do with the feedback that any outside organization provides to them.

If you have any additional questions please call. I'm back at Susquehanna this week.

Sam
