NRR OFFICE INSTRUCTION
ADM-200, Revision 9

Delegation of Signature Authority

1. POLICY

It is the policy of the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation (NRR) to have clearly defined delegations of authority and responsibilities for issuing documents and correspondence.

2. OBJECTIVES

To authorize signature authority for various documents and correspondence issued by NRR to ensure effective and efficient implementation of the assigned responsibilities.

3. BACKGROUND

NRR Office Instruction, Revision 8, was issued on June 27, 2005. See Attachments 1, 2, and 3 for guidance on signature and concurrence responsibilities. See Attachment 4 for guidance on documents that require review and concurrence by a Technical Editor.

4. BASIC REQUIREMENTS

4.1 Concurrences

All correspondence should reflect the concurrence or review of those NRC organizations exercising functional responsibility for the subject matter involved. Individuals can limit their concurrence to technical, policy, or legal areas. Documents should be complete and accurate, yet the developmental process must be efficient and timely. To accomplish these objectives, follow the guidelines provided in ~~part II, Section (J),~~ of the Management Directive Handbook 3.57, "Correspondence Management," and the following additional guidelines for NRR-generated correspondence. Attachment 1 identifies signature responsibilities and authorities. Attachment 2 is a checklist to assist document authors in the concurrence process. Attachment 3 provides document authors with an illustration of a concurrence chain for documents signed at the ~~Project Director~~ Division Director or Branch Chief level and the concurrence chain for documents signed by the Director, NRR. Attachment 4 identifies documents that require formal Technical Editor concurrence.

1. When substantive changes are made to a document which has previous concurrences, the document should be returned to the primary author (the individual who prepares the document, including consolidation of contributions from others into an integrated product) and the appropriate supervisor for their re-concurrence. However, if comments incorporated in the document cause a significant change to the meaning of the document, the document must be returned through the concurrence chain for re-concurrence. If the original concurrence included Regional Administrator(s) and/or other Office Directors, they must also re-concur before final signature is permitted. If the primary author does not agree with changes made to the document, or some compromise, the primary author or supervisor may choose to rescind his or her concurrence. This policy denotes the minimally acceptable procedure for re-concurrences. Certain instances may exist where additional re-concurrences by individuals other than the primary author would be prudent. Sound judgment should be exercised to ensure that all concurrences remain unaffected.

2. Concurrence from other divisions within NRR should be at the lowest level that can speak authoritatively on a subject. Concurrence from other divisions implies they are speaking for the division. This usually will be at the project manager, senior staff, or ~~section~~ branch chief level. |
 - a. Branch Chief concurrence would be appropriate on issues involving novel technical content, multi-site impact, or minor policy questions.
 - b. Division Director concurrence normally would be appropriate if (1) significant programmatic impacts are likely, or (2) substantial policy issues are involved. In these cases, the appropriate Associate Director should be notified.
 - c. The Director, NRR, should be informed before any action is taken that is likely to result in changes to plant operating status.
3. The cognizant Division Director is responsible for all actions within his or her functional area, whether or not concurrence is obtained from any other NRC/NRR organization. The decision-making authority rests with the cognizant Division Director. Therefore, inability to obtain concurrence from another organization does not relieve the Division Director of the responsibility to meet schedules. If this occurs, the Division Director should raise this concern to the ~~Deputy Director, NRR~~ Associate Director. |
4. To ensure appropriate independent review of certain types of documents, when a nonsupervisory staff member is acting for the supervisor, the staff member should not concur and/or sign on their own work. The staff member should obtain concurrence or signature from another cognizant supervisor or the next higher level of management. This requirement applies only to specific items in Attachment 1, indicated by footnote 10. |
5. The Director, NRR, holds the cognizant Division Director responsible for the technical, financial, and administrative accuracy of all documents prepared for the Director, NRR, or higher agency management.
6. Concurrence on controlled correspondence is to be obtained in accordance with Management Directive 3.57. The Office of the General

Counsel (OGC) should concur on correspondence that involves legal issues or regulatory interpretation, correspondence from interveners or relating to an active proceeding, and 10 CFR 2.390 petitions. OGC concurrence should be obtained on those documents denoted by footnote 2 of Attachment 1, Delegation of Signature Authority.

7. If the external agency communication (oral or written) contains new or unresolved policy or technical issues, or differs from a stated policy, or if there is a conflict between the author's views and documented NRC policies or positions, or a new policy issue is involved, the Branch Chief will review the summary or abstract of the paper and make recommendations to the Division Director before the Division Director approves acceptance of an invitation. See Office Instruction COM-207 for further guidance.
8. It is the responsibility of the author (originator) to determine the availability and sensitivity of a document, not the secretary, submitter, or administrative staff.
9. Concurrence should be obtained from the Technical Editor for ~~any document for the Office Director's signature or above~~; the documents listed in Attachment 4.
10. Many documents issued by the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation are required, by Title 10 Code of Federal Regulations, to be signed by the Office Director. This signature can be delegated to a designated "acting" in the absence of the Office Director. Staff should remain sensitive to ensure the appropriate signature is obtained. As a general rule, licensing documents best fit this category. Many other documents, which in the past, have required concurrence by multiple Executive Team (ET) members can now be concurred and signed by one ET member only.
11. The Administrative Services Team (FAST) will ensure proper routing of documents for ET signature to ET members. Concurrence block will only include NRR Office Director.
12. Administrative staff responsibility for documents: (1) responses to green tickets and WITS items, (2) documents originated in NRR for the concurrence of the Office Director but being signed at a higher level than the Office Director, and (3) documents signed by the Office Director addressed to individuals outside the agency - the Associate Director's (AD) Secretary should review, log, and forward to the NRR Mail Room for quality editing.

Other types of documents should be quality edited by the AD Secretary or the Office Director's Secretary. Any document that does not meet the AD's approval, should be returned to the appropriate Division for revision, unless only minor editorial edits are needed in which either the Office Director or AD Secretary will revise the document.

4.2 Non-concurrence

If an employee has genuine concerns with aspects of any document for which he/she has expertise or responsibility, that employee has the responsibility to raise those concerns, without fear of retribution, irrespective of whether the employee is on concurrence for the document.

Concerns with the technical content, overall approach, or objective of the document should be discussed with the author of the document. If this discussion does not resolve the disagreement, the employee should hold discussions with the successive levels of management responsible for approval of the document, up to and including the signatory of the document, in an attempt to resolve the disagreement within the concurrence process.

If a solution still cannot be reached, a non-concurrence may be appropriate. Non-concurrence is an act which indicates disagreement with information provided in an NRC document based upon the individual's experience, and/or responsibility. In such a case, the non-concurring employee or highest level manager agreeing with the non-concurring employee must separately document the reason for the non-concurrence in a memorandum to the Division Director responsible for the approval of the document and his/her Division Director. If a manager non-concurs, he/she should clearly distinguish in the memorandum whether the non-concurrence is organizational (for the branch or section) or personal. If the non-concurring employee is on concurrence for the document, the employee shall note the non-concurrence on the concurrence sheet (by initialing and writing "non-concurrence" in the concurrence block).

The Division Director ~~in the division~~ where the non-concurrence originates shall document the resolution of the issue and the corresponding basis in a separate memorandum. If the Division Director disagrees with the non-concurring employee (staff-level non-concurrence), the Division Director shall issue the memorandum to the document's final signature authority, prior to the document's issuance, providing the basis for disposition. However, if the Division Director agrees with the non-concurring employee (division-level non-concurrence), the non-concurrence shall be raised to the ~~NRR Deputy Director (for DRIP and DIPM)~~ or the appropriate Associate Director (for DSSA, DE, and DLPM) for disposition. In this case, the ~~NRR Deputy Director~~ or Associate Director is responsible for preparing the appropriate memorandum to the signatory of the document.

Regardless of the level of non-concurrence, the Division Director will discuss the resolution with the NRR Deputy Director or appropriate Associate Director and will inform the non-concurring employee of the resolution and of the availability of the processes in MD 10.159, "The NRC Differing Professional Opinions Program". The non-concurrence memorandum and the resolution memorandum will be placed in ADAMS by the administrative staff of the affected Division as part of a non-publicly available package which includes the document. This package will be created for the sole purpose of linking the non-concurrence memorandum to the document and should be distinct from packages created for other purposes, i.e., to link an incoming document to a response. The Division Director will ensure that this package is provided to the non-concurring employee, the signatory of the document, and PDAs/POEB (included on distribution for tracking purposes), to allow the signatory to be fully informed of the issues raised.

In accordance with the guidance in Management Directive (MD) 3.53, "NRC Records Management Program," NRR senior management requires that all significant decisions made by its staff shall be documented and preserved. Therefore, the senior manager responsible for resolving the non-concurrence shall issue, when practical, the memorandum to the signature authority supporting concurrence or non-concurrence prior to the issuance of the document. Likewise, the senior manager shall issue, when practical, the memorandum describing the decision regarding the non-concurrence to the non-concurring employee prior to the issuance of the document. While it will be NRR's goal to prepare and issue these memoranda prior to the document's issuance, NRR will not allow the documentation process to impact its ability to make timely decisions on safety significant issues. Therefore, any deviation from fulfilling these expectations shall require the ~~NRR Deputy Director's~~ or appropriate Associate Director's approval. |

Differences that the non-concurring employee believes are potentially significant and cannot be resolved with office management shall be handled in accordance with the guidance in MD 10.159, "The NRC Differing Professional Opinions Program."

4.2.1 Organizational Responsibilities for Non-concurrences

1. ~~Deputy Director~~ or Associate Director, as appropriate
 - A. Provides resolution for division level non-concurrences.
 - B. Responds, in writing, to all division level non-concurrences providing a basis for any decisions made.
2. Division Director/Division Deputy Director
 - A. Informs ~~Deputy Director~~ or Associate Director of all non-concurrences.
 - B. Proposes resolution to ~~Deputy Director~~ or Associate Director for division-level non-concurrences.
 - C. Provides resolution for staff-level non-concurrences within his/her division.

- D. Prepares written justification, prior to the document's issuance, to the document's signature authority describing basis for either concurrence or non-concurrence of the document.
 - E. Responds, in writing to the non-concurring employee, for all staff-level non-concurrences providing basis for any decisions made.
- 3. Branch ~~and Section~~ Chiefs
 - A. Informs Division Director/Division Deputy Director of all non-concurrences by their staff.
 - B. Proposes resolution to Division Director/Division Deputy Director for staff level non-concurrences.
- 4. Each Employee
 - A. Responsible for raising any concerns with a document to his/her immediate supervisor.
 - B. Responsible for providing non-concurrence for any document that he/she has genuine concerns, and for which he/she has expertise and/or responsibility, regardless of whether he/she is on concurrence for the document.
 - C. Separately documents reason for non-concurrence in writing to his/her Division Director.

5. RESPONSIBILITIES AND AUTHORITIES

5.1 Management

Re-delegation of responsibilities and authorities is delineated in the attachment to this Office Instruction.

As appropriate, NRR Division Directors may issue written guidance reflecting internal NRR signature authorities that are consistent with the delegation of authority reflected in the attachment and the responsibilities assigned.

5.2 Administrative Staff

Responsibility for documents:

- (1) Responses to green tickets and WITS items: Associate Director's (AD) Secretary review, log, and forward to NRR Mail Room for quality editing.
- (2) Documents originated in NRR for the concurrence of the Office Director but being signed at a higher level than the Office Director: AD Secretary review, log, and forward to NRR Mail Room for quality editing.
- (3) Documents signed by the Office Director addressed to individuals outside the agency: AD Secretary review, log, and forward to NRR Mail Room for quality editing.

Other types of documents should be quality edited by the AD Secretary or the Office Director's Secretary.

Any document that does not meet the Associate Director's approval, should be returned to the appropriate Division for revision, unless only minor editorial edits are needed in which either the Office Director or AD Secretary will revise the document.

6. PERFORMANCE MEASURES

No performance measures for this office instruction have been developed at this time.

Footnotes

1. Authority is also delegated to higher levels within the same organization. If the designated organizational unit does not exist in a division, the next higher level is delegated the authority.

Division Deputy Directors ~~and Deputy Branch Chiefs and Section Chiefs~~ are authorized to act for Division Directors ~~and Branch Chiefs~~, as appropriate. |

2. OGC concurrence is required. For Item 1, OGC concurrence does not apply to Federal Register notices required by 10 CFR 50.91; see the NRR Document Processing and Distribution Guide. Amendments issued using consolidated line-item improvement process may not require OGC concurrence (see Lead PM). OGC concurrence is not required on notices requesting public comments on proposed generic letters and bulletins. OGC concurrence is not required for QA Plan changes and EP Plan changes that do not result in a license amendment.
3. Concurrence by the Director, NRR, is required before issuing a license amendment and final no significant hazards consideration determination if a requested hearing will not be completed before the license amendment is issued. In such instances, notification to the Commission must be provided at least 5 days before the date that the staff intends to issue the final no significant hazards consideration determination and license amendment.
4. The concurrence of the Director, Office of Enforcement, and the Deputy Executive Director for Reactor Programs, unless delegated to the Director, Office of Enforcement, is required on Notices of Violations with Severity Level III violations or higher, proposed civil penalties, and correspondence associated with such actions.
5. May be delegated with written approval of the Director, NRR.
6. The names and signatures of individuals specifically delegated this authority shall be furnished to the Division of Accounting and Finance, Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO), via the Time and Attendance Reporting Delegations Form approved by a Division Director, or higher, as appropriate. Alternates must be of equal or higher rank as the overtime approving official.

SES personnel may not be compensated or granted compensatory time off for overtime worked, except that overtime hours worked, including holiday work, may be credited as an offset for time off for religious observance.

7. The names and signatures of individuals specifically delegated these authorities shall be furnished to the Division of Accounting and Finance, OCFO, via the Time and Attendance Reporting Delegations Form approved by a Division Director or higher, as appropriate. These authorities do not routinely transfer to an official serving in an "Acting" capacity unless specifically so delegated as an Alternate on the Time and Attendance Reporting Delegations Form.

8. Completed selection packages must be reviewed by the Division Director or his/her immediate staff prior to submittal to the Resource Management Branch, Program Management, Policy Development and Planning Staff.
9. May be re-delegated to senior staff member.
10. To ensure appropriate independent review, when a nonsupervisory staff member is acting for the supervisor, the staff member should not concur and/or sign on their own work. The staff member should obtain concurrence or signature from another cognizant supervisor, or the next higher level of management.
11. If not otherwise delegated to the Director, Office of Enforcement, the concurrence of the Director, Office of Enforcement, and the Deputy Executive Director for Reactor Programs, is required on Notices of Violation and Severity Level III violations or higher, proposed civil penalties, and correspondence associated with such actions.
12. The Director, NRR may redelegate to Associate Directors and above, the authority to issue civil penalty actions for violations involving vendors, after review and approved by the Director, OE (and the DEDO and the Commission, if applicable).
13. July 17, 1987 delegation of authority from Director, OE to Director, NRR.
14. February 3, 1998 delegation of authority from Director, OE to Director, NRR.
15. The ~~RPRP Program Director~~ Division Director, DPR, and appropriate NRR Division Directors must be on concurrence for rulemakings that change reactor policy. |

Checklist for Document Authors

Prior to entering the concurrence process:

- " Ensure that those on concurrence are "appropriate managers with collateral responsibility," as discussed in MD 3.57 and "exercise functional responsibility for the subject matter involved," as discussed in ADM-200. Note that ADM-200 states that concurrence from divisions within NRR, other than the division responsible for the document, should be at the lowest level that can speak authoritatively on a subject. This usually will be at the project manager, senior staff, or ~~section~~ branch chief level. |
- " If the document concurrence chain contains multiple individuals at the same level, i.e., ~~section~~ branch chief, division director, use parallel concurrence, as acceptable. Note that for NRR-generated documents, concurrences for other offices must already have been received before the document can be forwarded to the NRR Office Director for concurrence. |
- " Notify individuals on the concurrence chain that their concurrence will be desired, when they can expect to receive the document, and how long they will be given for their review.

During the concurrence process:

- " Re-notify individuals on the concurrence chain that their concurrence is desired and how long they have for their review.
- " Ensure that for division and NRR Front Office review, documents are logged into, respectively, division secretaries and the Front Office Administrative Services Team (FAST) mailbox at O-5E15. The office mail system should not be used.
- " Periodically determine status of review of individuals on the concurrence chain.
- " If an individual on the concurrence chain wishes to withhold concurrence for editorial comments, inform that individual that concurrence indicates agreement with the overall approach, objective, and technical content in the individual's area of functional responsibility and indicate that the individual can concur with comments.
- " Attempt to resolve disagreements at the lowest levels. If resolution cannot be reached, elevate through successive levels of management up to and including the signatory of the document.
- " If resolution cannot be reached, inform the individuals involved of the availability of the non-concurrence process and the processes contained within MD 10.159, "Differing Professional Views or Opinions."

Agency Communications on Policy Matters and Chairman Commission Correspondence

I. Documents Signed at the ~~Project Director~~ Division Director or Branch Chief Level

The ~~Project Director (PD)~~ Division Director (DD) or Branch Chief (BC) is permitted to sign only after the document has been fully concurred in by the NRR Directors' office, the EDO, and the ~~Chairman~~ Commission. ~~If substantial changes are made by the EDO and/or the Chairman, the document must return to the NRR Director's office again before final signature is permitted.~~ The proper concurrence chain is as follows: ~~Project Director / Branch Chief~~ Originator, Branch Chief, Technical Editor if applicable, per Attachment 4, Division Director (concur only, do not sign), Regional Administrator/Other Office Director, NRR Office Director, Executive Director for Operations, ~~Chairman~~ Commission, NRR Office Director (only if substantial changes are made), ~~Project Director~~ Division Director or Branch Chief (sign).

Office Instruction ADM-200, Revision 9

ADM-200, Revision 9 - Change History - Page 1 of 2
Date	Description of Changes	Method Used to Announce & Distribute	Training
11/06/2001	This Office Instruction is a conversion of NRR Office Letter 101, Revision 13, Delegation of Signature Authority. In addition to being reformatted, there has also been changes to the level of delegated signature authority.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
01/18/2002	This revision incorporates the reorganization that took place in the Division of Regulatory Improvement Programs (DRIP), NRR. Additionally, there are a few areas where the level of signature authority has changed. The revisions to this Office Instruction are indicated with redline.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
08/27/2002	This revision reflects changes in items 11, 14, 32, 45, 49.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
10/11/2002	This revision reflects changes in items 11, 41 and added a new item 53. "Information Quality Program." The revisions to this Office Instruction are indicated with redline/strikeout.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
01/23/2003	This revision reflects changes to items 34, and 45. Includes an additional item, item 54, and a change to footnote 2. The revisions to this Office Instruction are indicated with redline/strikeout.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
08/08/2003	This revision reflects changes relative to the recent Associate Director for Inspection & Programs (ADIP) re-organization and the function of OSREs residing in NSIR. Additionally, this revision includes an additional item, item 55 and footnote 15. The revisions to this Office Instruction are indicated with redline/strikeout.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None

Date	Description of Changes	Method Used to Announce & Distribute	Training
05/21/2004	This revision reflects changes to a significant number of items. The additions are highlighted in blue and the deletions are indicated in strikeout in Attachment 1 of this Office Instruction. These changes mostly affect, but are not limited to, the Division of Licensing Project Management (DLPM).	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
10/27/2004	This revision reflects changes to a number of items. The additions are highlighted in blue and the deletions are indicated in strikeout in Attachment 1 of this Office Instruction.	Hard copy distributed to all NRR employees	None
06/27/2005	This revision reflects changes to a number of items. The additions are highlighted in redline/strikeout of this Office Instruction. These changes mostly affect the re-concurrence practice and non-concurrence process described in Sections 4.1 and 4.2.	E-mail to all staff	None
10/31/2005	This revision reflects the NRR reorganization and adds a new attachment that identifies those documents that require the review/concurrence of a Technical Editor. Changes appear in redline/strikeout.	E-mail to all staff	None
