

From: HRWEB
To: Leonard Carsley
Date: Thu, Mar 3, 2005 10:13 AM
Subject: CBA Changes

Len,

I wanted to respond to your question about how to post the highlighted additions and strikeouts on the new articles for employees to see.

If you can provide me and Sally Wilding (you can send an email to this HRWEB mailbox) with a WordPerfect document that has the 7 articles in it, we can create a pdf file and post it on the internal web. You could then link to it from a Network Announcement so that the staff can see the changes.

Once you have the whole Agreement in final form, you can send your request for posting attached to an email to HRWEB, and Sally and I will create the new pdf file and post it on the internal web. If we need to create bookmarks and such, it would probably take a few days.

Please feel free to contact me or Sally if you have any questions.
Thanks,
Jeanne

>>> Leonard Carsley 03/02/05 01:32PM >>>
Jeanne

I have the mid-term articles back from Luis Reyes and Dale Yeilding and I are ready to get them ready for publication (Dale and I will be putting our heads together to do a final editing of the articles). I know that we spoke this week but I can't remember what you said we can do about posting the changes. I have an electronic copy of the 7 articles (37 pages), with the strikeouts and highlighted changes that we want to make available to the workforce. I think that you said that we can send out a network announcement with a link to the web that they can use to view the changes. In the meantime, we need to incorporate the 7 modified articles into the CBA and get it reposted on the web and sent to printing. Please let me know what your ideas are about that process.

I'll be in tomorrow and off on Friday.

CC
Dale

CC: Dale Yeilding NTEU; Jeanne Dempsey; Sally Wilding

Al 9