all: some odds and ends from the EDO meeting today.

1: there was a ruling earlier this week in an whistleblower case involving a TVA employee that could have some impact on safety culture issues. OGC is working on some talking points that can be distributed to everyone. To be honest, the discussion got a little obtuse so your correspondent got a little lost in it, but when they said talking points and safety culture i woke up. Larry Chandler will contact OPA on the issue and then we'll work with Bill's crowd.

3: next week is the final week for the vermont yankee engineering inspection team so we can expect something downstream on that.
