Subject: Re: Health question to the NRC and DOE about Les enrichment plant safety

During the week I asked NRC official Timothy Johnson and DOE officials Rob Seifert and Ms. Schachter about what happened to a worker in an government regulated uranium enrichment plant at Paducah. I asked because LES wants to build a enrichment plant in Lea county.

I received no answer.

Could it be that the fact that working at Paducah cost Mr. Harding first his health and then his life. That he believed what DOE and government officials told him about the plant safety.

Until it was too late.

What exactly happened to Mr. Harding? Do these conditions that killed Joe Harding still exist in enrichment plants today?

Is this the reason Mr. Johnson, Mr. Seifert and Ms. Schachter do not reply?

Think about it.

I think a quote by Bill Richardson would apply here

"I have learned that the government and the contractors were almost, in many cases, not always straight with the workers about their illnesses and that is wrong and as a government we need to redress that grievance."
