By letter dated January 22, 1976, you submitted the Westinghouse ECCS evaluation model and requested that it be withheld from public disclosure. On February 19, 1976, you submitted a revised January 22, 1976 letter (erroneously dated February 13, 1976) and requested that the original January 22 letter be destroyed. The February 19 submittal provided justification for withholding the ECCS evaluation model from public disclosure and also transmitted a nonproprietary version of the document.

The reason for withholding this material was stated to be that it reveals the distinguishing aspects of a process (or components, structure, tool, method, etc) whose exclusive use by Westinghouse constitutes a competitive economic advantage over other companies, and its use by a competitor would reduce his competitive position in the design, manufacture, shipment, installation, assurance of quality, or licensing a similar product.

The staff has examined the subject material and pursuant to Section 2.790(b) of 10 CFR Part 2, has approved your request.

Accordingly, pursuant to Section 2.790(b) of 10 CFR Part 2, we are withholding the proprietary information from public inspection. Withholding from public inspection shall not affect the right, if any, of persons properly and directly concerned to inspect the documents.

Sincerely,
