Subject: OPERATIONS BUILDING DESIGN - GENERAL ELECTRIC-HITACHI GLOBAL LASER ENRICHMENT (GLE) LICENSE APPLICATION

By letter dated June 22, 2011, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) provided the results of their review of GLE's April 8, 2011 response to an NRC Request for Additional Information (RAI) related to the design of the GLE Operations Building. In that letter, the NRC stated that GLE should provide an amended License Application, Integrated Safety Analysis Summary, and Quality Assurance Program Description incorporating the results of the NRC review.

The Enclosures to this letter provide the amended License Application, Integrated Safety Analysis Summary, and Quality Assurance Program Description documents incorporating the results of the NRC review of GLE's April 8, 2011 RAI response. Also included are revisions not related to the NRC review. These include minor non-intent, editorial, and typographical changes and revisions to Chapters 4.6 and 4.15 of the Integrated Safety Analysis Summary to provide clarification and information related to a previous NRC RAI commitment.

Enclosures 2 and 3 of this letter contain sensitive Proprietary and Security-Related Information and should be withheld from public disclosure. When separated from these enclosures, this letter is non-sensitive.
