Dear Lee Colaeis,

I am writing as a citizen of Asheville NC, concerned--outraged?--that a nuclear power plant is being considered in this region.

I would be outraged on behalf of ANY region.

Nuclear power has seductive powers to persuade people of its benefits and benign nature, but, like many seductions, its reality is ugly.

Why are we building plants when other countries are weaning themselves of this technology?

Why are we not pursuing a national campaign for energy conservation, so there is no longer a call for an increase in energy sources?

Why are we not robustly encouraging innovation in renewable energy technologies?

Actually, these are rhetorical questions, and I do not look to you for the answers. These are the issues that motivate me and millions of others around the globe to make changes in our own lives, in our communities, our states, our nations.

"Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has."

Margaret Mead

NO NEW NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS ANYWHERE.

Sincerely,

Cathy Scott
Asheville NC
