Dear Madams/Sirs --

I am writing to state my opposition to turning current nuclear power plants into additional nuclear waste dumps. Many of these plants are near populated areas, and they are already a huge risk. I live near San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station in Orange County, California, home to about 7,000,000 residents. Though it is in the far south of the county, there are tens of thousands of people living in its immediate vicinity. Lodging nuclear waste at current nuclear plants is not an option.

Thank you for your time,
Beth Anne Boardman
