To Whom It May Concern,

Anything less than the safest option for storage of nuclear waste is simply unacceptable. You are asking us to have faith that no accidents or acts of terrorism will happen now, when all kinds of accidents happen everyday that no one foresees, and you are also asking us to have faith that no accidents or (lack of funding) will happen for years upon years in the future. Wow. The whole concept is rather pathetic and will probably be overcome by better, safer ideas in the near future, yet, we will still be dealing with this mess. You must require HOSS at the very least.

Thanks,
Lynn McArdle
