

For Building 2, no photos were taken because the field crew did not want to disrupt daily operations in the hospital. In addition, only one set of drawings was required because this building was constructed in the 1970s.