Documents Title in ADAMS)

Dr. Bell called me about the Request for Information Letter dated June 13, 2012. He replied verbally to the letter. On item 1, he said that he understood that he needed to convert the generally licensed devices to specifically licensed devices before he changed anything associated with the instruments. On item 2, he stated that he would not need to violate License Condition No. 14 and would maintain the use of the electron capture devices within the specifications of the electron capture device. I then explained that he did not need any additional authorization and that he was already licensed to perform that activity. On number 3, he replied that he didn't have any tritium and that this work would only be with nickel 63 electron capture detector cells.
