Mr. Goold,

Thank you for the response to our June 26, 2012 letter. I understand from your e-mail response and our telephone discussion that you have requested the option of using our Alternate Dispute Resolution (ADR) program. More information can be obtained concerning the ADR program at our internet site: <http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/regulatory/enforcement/adr.html>. If you review this information, the aspect of the ADR program that would apply is referred to as Post-Investigation ADR.

Please contact Cornell University at (877) 733-9415, as requested in our letter, to provide them notification of your request.

I'll also be coordinating with our staff and the Institute on Conflict Resolution at Cornell University. We will be contacting you to discuss the logistics for the mediation, including the location, date, and potential mediators.

If you have any additional questions, please call me at 630/810-4373 or Patricia Lougheed at 630/810-4376.

Thank you,

Steven Orth
US NRC Region III
Enforcement/Investigations Officer

This email is in regards to the decision the NRC has taken. I'd like to meet with a mediator and keep the option of a hearing open.
