OFFICE OF SECRETARY
RULEMAKINGS AND ADJUDICATIONS STAFF

Fukushima was a wake-up call, especially for those of us who live near Mark 1 reactors of the same design. We have learned that the plans that we currently have for emergency reasons (specifically the 10 mile zones) are not adequate. If we don't increase the zones to be realistic, than we are doing a disservice to Americans of all generations.

I urge the NRC adopt the proposed rule expanding emergency planning zones to the respective 25, 50, and 100 mile zones and add a new requirement that emergency exercises include scenarios of regionally appropriate initiating or concurrent natural disasters.

If we don't do this, we are setting ourselves up to be the next disaster.

Thank you,

Anna Baker
