The first line of my email below should read "Bobby stated Entergy's belief that this document was incorporated into the 2006 version of the CMP." Apologies for the confusion.

Subject: RE: Reconvening the 2.323(b) Consultation

Following up on yesterday's call, I wish to clarify one statement that Bobby made - I shared the 2006 Routine Program Change document and Bobby stated Entergy's belief that this document was incorporated into the 1982 version of the CMP. There is no 2006 version of the New York CMP; there is only the original CMP and the subsequent RPCs (including the one under discussion here).

Also, Bobby raised 930.6(c); this provision, while applicable in certain states, does not apply in New York.

These factual and legal questions/misunderstandings about New York's program cause me to again question Entergy's need for expediting submission of this motion. Entergy has had five years to raise this issue, which is a novel approach (as you know, Entergy did properly observe the State's authority under the CZMA during FitzPatrick's relicensing, which is no different than the situation here), and yet has chosen a particularly busy pre-hearing period in which to raise this. Additionally, Entergy's new counsel has not been entirely respectful of longstanding relicensing deadlines (I cannot recall an instance in which a party has insisted on a consultation call on such a complex issue on a filing deadline day in our many years of working well together). I do not believe Entergy has substantiated its need for expedited treatment of this motion. The two reasons Entergy provides, a manufactured 10-day window from a letter Entergy itself decided to send (which parties have agreed to extend), and alternately a need to file a CZMA application which Entergy has not filed in the five years since submitting its application, do not provide sufficient cause for expedited treatment of this issue.

That said, I am diligently working to formulate a position on Entergy's motion and provide responses to questions Entergy raised in yesterday's call. I have been in touch with two state agencies and staff there are reviewing records on the 2000 and 2001 transfers of the Indian Point facilities as to the CZMA. As I will be regrettably out of the office this afternoon, I do not anticipate having an answer to these questions by Monday's call.

Thank you,
 Janice

Subject: Reconvening the 2.323(b) Consultation

Again, we want to thank everyone for being available this afternoon to confer about the motion for declaratory order Entergy is considering. Ms. Dean stated that the State of New York needs until 10 am EDT on Monday to consider whether it will consent to or oppose Entergy's motion for a declaratory order holding that renewal of the operating licenses for Indian Point Units 2 and 3 will not cause coastal zone effects substantially different than those previously reviewed by New York State.

After discussing the matter with colleagues and the client, Entergy is amenable to this request. Accordingly, my assistant will send a conference call notice for a further consultation on Monday at 10 am EDT so that New York can state whether it agrees or disagrees with Entergy's position.
