Hi Heather

Thank you so much for the quick reply. I should have thought to check my messages in the office. My schedule has shifted again and I am not in the office very regularly at all.

I think I will plan on staying in St Paul on Monday then as I have a Tuesday morning meeting with the SHPO. I will see what I can arrange for a meeting space for a small group. I believe it will be 6 of us unless Phil comes, which would be great.

Can you meet on Tuesday morning if there is more work that could be accomplished? If so would you want to stay in St Paul or drive down to Redwing for Monday night. I ask because chances are that if you are going to Redwing on Monday some of our group would go down as well and be available to meet there in the morning.

For the Tuesday afternoon tour I have 6 confirmed, including myself. If seating is tight I can sit out, but I am glad to look around again. I think that Randy and I can be in redwing by 1:30 or 2 on Tuesday afternoon. I will confer with Randy and firm this up. If the tour could happen after this it would be great, particularly as Randy is our Archaeologist. If we miss the first tour we could maybe go on the second round :-) Just let us know what works for you all.

I will let the applicant know to expect the three of you for the tour and Q&A.

Thanks again. I will let others know the current plan.

Jean

Hi Jean

I called you yesterday and left a voice mail message. Yes, Monday afternoon works for a meeting, just let me know where and when. I am flying in Monday AM, so meeting in St.Paul is a good idea.

A Tuesday afternoon tour works, just let me know how many to expect.

As for Wednesday, I believe it will be Ron, Phil and myself.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Heather

Hi Heather,

I wanted to follow up on my email from last Friday to see if the suggested schedule will work? And to see if staying in Redwing or St. Paul makes most sense for Monday.

The applicant has also asked who other than you will plan on coming to the site visit on Wednesday, I have assumed you would come? The plan would be to have an abbreviated tour followed by time for environmental related Q&A.

As a heads up there seems to be a lot of interest in the tour of the reservation on Tuesday afternoon!

Hope you are doing well!

Jean
