Today, we are in a crisis situation. As electricity prices continue to go up, people are beginning to demand relief and they are also beginning to take a harder look at the energy and environmental policies of the 1970's. These policies have been a proven failure.

Speaking on behalf of business and labor, the San Diego Coalition is putting its full support behind San Onofre and the licensing of Units Two and Three. It is the best thing that can be done now to insure a secure energy future for Southern California.

If San Onofre is not licensed or if it is delayed for several years, the impact on Southern California will be a loss of millions of jobs as businesses with a heavy reliance on energy are forced to move from the state due to financial concerns over energy prices. This will lower the quality of life for the people who live here and they will be forced to cut back on other essentials in order to pay the high cost of electricity.

Clearly the suffering due to the lack of an adequate energy supply has already been demonstrated. The San Diego Coalition asks that you not exacerbate the problem with needless delays and studies. We need a secure energy future and we need it now. That is why we favor the licensing of San Onofre Units Two and Three.

Sincerely,

Richard W. Carlson
Senior Vice President
Co-Chairman, San Diego Coalition
