General Comment

It is time for the world to move toward renewal sources of energy and to stop using the most dangerous source-- nuclear power. The ongoing, uncontrolled disaster in Fukushima is convincing evidence of this. It is time for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to shut-down and decommission all operating nuclear plants in the United States. The Commission should then turn its attention to dealing with the massive amounts of radioactive wastes. This will demand a thorough and thoughtful review of all options for containment of these wastes as well as a warning system that will notify future generations of its fatal toxicity.
