Hi Chandu,

Would you please pass the email below on to Alice to see if this solves the problem, and let me know?

Thanks,

Gina

Hi Gina,

Do you know if Ms. Stieve has clicked on the little square in the upper right hand corner of the viewer (see below and excuse my "art") so she can view the document in full screen? There are instructions about this in the letter the reviewers receive, but some either don't read the letter or forget that they can do this. I hope she hasn't been reviewing all the documents in the preview mode.

If you want me to contact her, I will be glad to. Just let me know. By the way, the document presents beautifully in full screen mode.

Kindest regards,
patty

Hi Patty,

This is a follow-up to Diane Aitken's email.

The NRC is having problems viewing files in our reading room. Please see the email below, and the attached files. Is there anything you can do to help us with this problem? Apparently, this problem isn't occurring with the BDB project's files, and our views of these files (at Dominion and Bechtel) are fine.

Please let me know if you have any questions. We're trying to fix this as quickly as possible, so whatever you can do to help will be much appreciated.

Thanks,

Gina Borsh

Chandu

While I was at Bechtel, reading the Geological Reconnaissance Report that was not docketed, I talked with Gina about the difficulty I was having looking at material in the ePortal. The Bechtel folks could not reproduce what I see on my computer. So I agreed to take a picture of the computer monitor with a document page opened up in the inner window. Gina wanted to see these to see if their IT people could make suggestions about viewing these documents and maps.

The jpgs show a screen capture of my browser window fully expanded on my computer monitor. The interior window shows the limited view I have of the actual file or map. I can't resize that inner window. I can zoom within that window but that eliminates seeing the whole picture of the map, or table or text page.
