Betsy,

The bank has elected to reissue this standby trust with the letter you requested. I will inquire as to an eta. Will year end be soon enough?

Brody – just checking for an update. Any idea yet if you will be able to get the Letter of Acknowledgement for the current instrument, rather than to have a new instrument drafted with all the supporting documentation?

Erich,

Because you reverted back to the September 14, 2012 Standby Trust Agreement, I missed this issue earlier, until I was ready to mail out all the final letters and return the superseded documents.

For that Standby Trust, the "letter of acknowledgement" (the last document attached to the copy of the Standby Trust you re-submitted) needs to be completed. This is a notarized letter from the trustee that they are authorized to enter into the agreement. We never got this in 2012 and need this document.

Thanks,
Betsy
