Subject: Do not approve FPL plans

As a resident of Coral Gables, Florida, I find it disturbing that the NRC would even consider approving such an irresponsible and short sighted proposal as the one being put forth by Florida Power and Light for expansion of the nuclear facility at Turkey Point. This plan poses an existential threat to one of the most populated urban areas in the United States. Not only does it jeopardize drinking water, it also makes the facility more vulnerable to rising sea levels and storm surge. And the idea to route massive, unsightly power lines through a beautiful part of the city is just tone deaf to the residents of the area. Those power lines can snap when a hurricane hits because they aren't hurricane resistant strength. Often the NIMBY attitude is applied to perfectly reasonable plans. This is not one of those cases. By approving this proposal, and putting South Florida at Fukushima-like risk, the NRC could have blood on its hands in the future. Please listen to the people and decline the FPL proposal for Turkey Point.
