Dear Chief Bladley,

I am writing in reference to Docket ID: NRC-2009-0337 to express my support to the proposed expansion of Turkey Point Power Plant, located in Homestead, Florida. The site proposed for expansion is located directly on the shores of Biscayne National Park. If designed correctly there would be no concerns like Japan plant flooding do to weather related wind/hurricane potential sea level rise. The design (engineering tech exist today) must not effect/should not have any serious environmental impacts on sensitive ecological habitat and the health and sustainability of limited freshwater resources.

Like so many Americans, I am committed to protecting the National Park System, which preserves our country's incredible array of landscapes, waters, wildlife, and opportunities for exploration. Biscayne National Park is an irreplaceable national treasure that safeguards precious natural resources and recreational opportunities. I am told that there are, within six miles of the proposed expansion site, there are two national parks, an aquatic preserve, a national wildlife refuge, and a wetland habitat preserve. Sufficient data should exist today to provide design direction and upgrade from existing two reactors.

The Design and Operating two new reactors at Turkey Point should not have any effect on the quantity and quality of precious freshwater resources. The tech exist today to prevent any effect. I support the expansion of Turkey Point providing proper designs are in place.

Thank you for considering my request.

Sincerely,

Mr. Rory Carpenter
