Discussion: In the letter dated 4/30/15, MedStar Georgetown requested that Guiseppe Esposito, M.D. be named the Radiation Safety Officer. Dr. Esposito is the current Chief of Nuclear Medicine at Georgetown and the RSO at MedStar Montgomery General Hospital (MD-31-042-01). In order for Dr. Esposito to be named as the RSO on the Georgetown license, he will need to get additional training for 35.400 and 35.600 uses. Specifically he will need radiation safety, regulatory issues, and emergency procedures associated with 35.400 and 35.600 uses. In MedStar's letter they stated that Dr. Esposito would get this training from Anatoly Dritschilo, Chief of Radiation Medicine over the next year. I spoke with Ms. Jones and informed her that Dr. Esposito would need this training before I could list him as the RSO. Ms. Jones will ensure that this gets done and get back to us as soon as possible.
