General Comment

There are so many ways to produce energy. From the sun, wind, tides, hydrogen, etc. but we have not invested in them. Rather we elect to make energy the old ways with the accompanying horrible ecological consequences. We don't correct our mistakes since how we make energy now is expedient, corporatized, and highly profitable. Nuclear energy is incredibly dangerous to our planet. Our technology surpasses our ability to control, maintain, service, and dispose of wastes from nuclear plants, but we proceed, just as we continue to burn fossil fuels. Don't know what we are saving for our kids. Donald Hartmann
