Dear Mr. Soviar:

Enclosed is Amendment No. 12 to your NRC Material License No. 42-32507-01 in accordance with your request. Please note that the changes made to your license are printed in bold font.

In the application, you listed iridium-192 and selenium-75 only and did not address iron-55, cadmium-109, americium-241 and cobalt-60 which are authorized on your license. If you would like to remove these isotopes from your license, please provide a request to delete these isotopes and provide a copy of the transferring record and the last leak test (if you have ever possessed them and stored at your authorized location of use listed on the license).

The NRC's Safety Culture Policy Statement became effective in June 2011. While a policy statement and not a regulation, it sets forth the agency's expectations for individuals and organizations to establish and maintain a positive safety culture. You can access the policy statement and supporting material that may benefit your organization on NRC's safety culture Web site at <http://www.nrc.gov/about-nrc/regulatory/enforcement/safety-culture.html>. We strongly encourage you to review this material and adapt it to your particular needs in order to develop and maintain a positive safety culture as you engage in NRC-regulated activities.

NRC's Regulatory Issue Summary (RIS) 2005-31 provides criteria to identify security-related sensitive information and guidance for handling and marking of such documents. This ensures that potentially sensitive information is not made publicly available through ADAMS, the NRC's electronic document system. Pursuant to NRC's RIS 2005-31 and in accordance with 10 Code of Federal Regulations 2.390, the enclosed license document is exempt from public disclosure because its disclosure to unauthorized individuals could present a security vulnerability. The RIS may be located on the NRC Web site at: <http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/doc-collections/gen-comm/reg-issues/2005/ri200531.pdf> and the link for frequently asked questions regarding protection of security related sensitive information may be located at: <http://www.nrc.gov/reading-rm/sensitive-info/faq.html>.

The enclosed document contains sensitive security-related information.
When separated from this cover letter this letter is uncontrolled.
