Dear Mr. Reichard,

In September 2015, Ashland Inc. announced a plan to separate into two independent, publicly traded companies – one focused on specialty chemicals and the other focused on high-performance lubricants (<http://investor.ashland.com/releases.cfm>). The new Ashland will be a global leader in providing specialty chemical solutions to customers in a wide range of consumer and industrial markets. Valvoline will focus on building the world's leading engine and automotive maintenance business by providing hands-on expertise to customers in each of its primary markets. Our goal is to make the transition successful and seamless.

As part of this separation, Ashland Inc. will undergo changes to the legal structure. This letter serves as notification to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission ("NRC") of upcoming changes in the legal structure of Ashland Inc., whereby Ashland Inc. will be converted into an LLC. The actual date of this conversion is not yet determined due to external factors, but we are submitting this notification to ensure that the 30 day notification requirement is met. Please note there will be no changes to Ashland Inc.'s operations, address or tax identification number.

Ashland Inc. currently operates under the Materials License number 47-31073-01 for the Ashland Inc. facility in Kenova, West Virginia. Ashland Inc. requests that the NRC, Division of Nuclear Materials Safety, amend the said Materials License to change the legal name to Ashland LLC after the conversion.

The Ashland separation and restructuring will have no effect on the ownership of the company, or its assets and liabilities in any way that would influence the permit.
