

CHAIRMAN Resource

From: Tom Gurdziel <tgurdziel@twcny.rr.com>
Sent: Saturday, February 11, 2017 10:48 AM
To: CHAIRMAN Resource
Subject: [External_Sender] An AIM Need

Good morning,

In a telephone call yesterday, (Friday), with an NRC employee who, I believe, was working from work, a very interesting thought came up: if we had an accident here, would we accept any offered help?

This caught me by surprise because I have been highly critical of Japanese performance in this regard since the Fukushima accidents.

We need a culture that would accept help from some organizations that need to be tactfully prescreened, in my opinion.

Thank you,

Tom Gurdziel

This email has been checked for viruses by Avast antivirus software.
www.avast.com