App 4

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for ensuring the integrity of the financial system and for providing a clear audit trail.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps involved in entering data into the system, from initial data collection to final verification and posting.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges associated with data entry and record keeping. It identifies common errors and provides strategies for minimizing them, such as double-checking entries and using standardized formats.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the role of technology in improving record keeping. It highlights the benefits of using automated systems and provides examples of how these systems can be implemented effectively.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes by summarizing the key points discussed and reiterates the importance of maintaining accurate records. It also provides a list of references for further reading and a list of contact information for those who need more information.

Dear Mr. Miller:

On August 17, 1979 we submitted the Training and Qualification Plan for Ginna Station for review and approval by the NRC. Your letter of September 24, 1979 notified us that a fee of $4,000 was required, pursuant to 10 CFR 170.22 for the review. Accordingly, we have enclosed a check for $4,000.

Very truly yours,

L. D. White, Jr.
