Attn: T. E. Murley

July 27, 1988

Dear Dr. Murley:

This letter and its attachments respond to the NRC Bulletin 87-02, Supplement No. 1, "Fastener Testing to Determine Conformance with Applicable Material Specifications" dated April 22, 1988. Attachment No. 1 contains the names and addresses of suppliers of nuclear grade fasteners and Attachment No. 2 contains the names and addresses of suppliers of standard grade fasteners. The effort to accomplish these listings was completed prior to the issuance of Supplement No. 2 to the bulletin, which reduced the scope of the information required by Supplement No. 1. Since our research is more complete than what is called for by Supplement No. 2, we did not believe it was prudent to spend additional time and effort to reduce the amount of information. Therefore, we are sending the information that was collected to respond to Supplement No. 1 of the bulletin.

In accordance with IE Bulletin 87-02, Supplement 1, a physical records search was performed of all purchase orders written within the last ten years. An exception to this statement is the local "C" (confirming) orders issued by the operations storeroom at the plant site. Local "C" orders issued by the plant operations storeroom are for purchases of limited value of non-safety related material. For this type of purchasing, records are retained for two years in accordance with Plant Procedure.

The record search included the vendor files in alphabetical order for the last ten years. The information obtained from the procurement documents is listed on the summary sheets attached and is separated into safety-related fasteners and non-safety related fasteners. In accordance with the information requested in
