Dear Mr. Strasma:

I am enclosing correspondence for your attention from Mr. Craig Flickinger concerning the nuclear facility in Michigan. I have informed Mr. Flickinger of this referral.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE: IDENTICAL LETTER
FORWARDED FROM OSHA.

As representatives of the public your duties are the safety and welfare of those citizens in this democracy. I don't understand recently how the Callicado nuclear facility here in Mich. got off so lightly with just a "letter" for having a trailer and a shack full of nuclear waste outside the fenced in area with radiation 25 times higher than the N.R.C. allows. WHAT IS GOING ON?! When my automobile runs out of gas I have to rent a red container from the attendant or he will refuse to sell me the fuel as required by law. But these big business like consumers can commit these so called "un-lucky crimes" and get away with just a "letter". They didn't even so much as get a fine and have 20 days to take corrective measures. Why I knew well enough as a child to keep poisons away from common containers unmarked. And any duck knows nuclear waste can be turned into an A-Bomb all it takes is access to a little plutonium and seven pound of dynamite and from the sounds of some of these terrorist lately "they mean business". I recently witnessed a powerful storm with whirling winds after such unfortunate events never get here I failed to find some little story in the paper of a trailer blowing away. What are we doing with such a waste? How long is it, 200 years. Will people in the future be any more responsible than we are now? I think its time for some action examples should be set early before its too late.
