Gentlemen:

We are a family of five - two adults and three children. We moved to this location about ten years ago, never dreaming at that time that we would ever be faced with the potential danger we are faced with today!

The controversial (and undesirable) Seabrook Nuclear Plant is practically in our back yard. We can see it from our porch. Needless to say, we are living in the "danger" zone and are very concerned about evacuation plans. We feel strongly that these evacuation plans, so important to us, do not seem to worry or concern the "powers that be." Evidently, the motto is, "So, we'll lose some people in the dead zone, but look at the energy we'll have!"

I have read parts of the 53-page report issued by the House Government Operations Committee and I am now even more frightened!

We still carry a very dim ray of hope that Seabrook will never be completed! We do not feel that energy is needed so badly that we must give lives for it. There are alternatives for energy, as we all know, and this wasteful country could very well ~~cut down~~ its use of energy.

We shall watch closely, and hope, that "Seabrook" ^{plant} will be stopped. If, however, it is completed, we'll join many others, and hope that our real estate will be "saleable"! For we shall not subject our children to the danger of the radiation! It is becoming more and more difficult to find a place to go, to be safe!

Hopefully,

Mrs. Frederick E. Wilde
