Hi Sara, how are you?

I found out a bit of information on the gauges. So apparently the motion was pulled because of concerns as to how the sale would impact an ongoing litigation against the former officers of the company. That litigation settled in July, and all the terms of that settlement were completed in August. So, apparently, now that that litigation is out of the way, they are preparing to file the de Minimis asset sale. Hopefully it will be filed by the end of September.

Thanks Sara,

Mike

Hi Sara,

Thanks again for your time today. I left a message on my end with Jason to follow up on the Motion. I'll get back to you ASAP.

Thanks,

Mike
