State of Wisconsin's Answers to NRC Staff's
First Set of Interrogatories and Request for Production of Documents

The State of Wisconsin answers the interrogatories and request for production of documents propounded by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission staff as follows:

1. Answering interrogatory #1, at this time the State of Wisconsin has not employed any witnesses in this proceeding on the subjects of any of the contentions admitted in this action. A search for qualified witnesses is, however, under way, and should one or more be secured, the state will inform the parties to this proceeding immediately and provide the information requested.

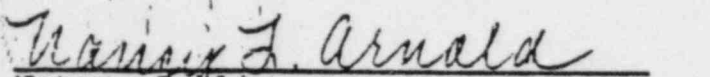

2. Answering interrogatories #2 and 3, the information sought therein is not directly applicable to the state at this time. Should the state's position change, as detailed above, the state will provide the necessary information at that time to all parties.

3. Answering interrogatory #4, the state does not at this time anticipate utilizing in its cross-examination any other documents besides those already listed by the staff and the applicant in their answers to interrogatories in this proceeding. Should the state determine that other documents not listed will be relied upon in cross-examination, the state will inform the other parties of this fact.
