Dear Mr. Minshall,

In regard to the nuclear power plant under construction in Port Clinton, I wish to ask you a few questions. First, although an Ohio State University team is currently monitoring the effects of radioactivity, what steps will be taken in the future to monitor these radioactive effluents? Will there be a state-wide radioactivity control organization? Secondly, what is your opinion on the construction of more of these power plants along the lakeshore in the future, and their possible effects on an already over-polluted body of water? I reside in Rocky River, but am currently attending Maryville College.

Thank you,

John Christian Lutsch
