Dear Sir,

I am very concerned about the future opening of the McGuire Nuclear Plant. In particular, I am worried about the low containment at McGuire. According to your own study (SEC 80-107) dated June 26, 1980, containment at McGuire is built to withstand 15 psi. I understand that pressure at Three Mile Island within containment went up to 28 psi.

What is being done about this?

Sincerely,

Katherine Sparrow
