Dear Mr. Ahearne

Next month will mark the second anniversary of the TMI-2 accident. We are happy to hear the recent news reports that the impact was not as severe as first thought.

We are, however, puzzled as to why Unit 1 has not been allowed to operate yet. Similar units have been operating at other plants. It is prudent that once this unit was modified the is put on line again soon. We believe nuclear power is safe (but not risk free) and is beneficial to our economic well being.

Sincerely

David S. Thomas
