

Dear Mr. Chairman,

(Restart)

I wish to express my concern over the reactivation of Unit I, the twin of its damaged reactor. It would be a great folly to do so. I can not understand why these great nuclear power plants were ever built. There is never any safe way of disposing of the wastes.

The reactivating of any portion of the power plant is like playing with a time bomb sooner or later it will explode. The results will be millions of lives will be destroyed. Nothing is worth that chance.

There are other ways of energy such as solar power. If all the millions that are now being spent on nuclear power were spent on solar energy we could rely totally on it. It is clean and it is natural and most and best of all it is safe.

Please think about what I have said here. Thank you very much.
